

News Bulletin W/C 7th April 2024

Dear Friends,

Welcome to this week's edition of our new e-news bulletin. Here is this weeks instalment from Ros Crosland at Baildon again some amazing pictures this week.

Hello Everybody,

As I write this we are back to rain and muddy walks, but we did see some sunshine at the weekend.

I have new neighbours! Blue tits have arrived in my nest box. I was watching them early on Friday morning, they were taking twigs out rather than bringing them in, there must have been some old material there from last year which they didn't want. They brought in their own new bits of moss and twigs a day later.

I've also shared a photo of a beautiful male pheasant - his amazing colours showing up well on a sunny morning. Luckily any thought of fetching this game bird and bringing it to me have been trained out of my labrador's head and we could both just watch as it sat there, me enjoying some photography and him probably thinking "if only....".

If you have anything you would like to add to our weekly news bulletin please send it through on email.

Regards Clair

PRAYERS

Dear Intercessors,

Students writing a thesis must cite their authorities, ie, say where they got facts or opinions from, if not their own. They are building their understanding on an existing knowledge base, and perhaps adding to it. And not only students, you see it in lots of books: the more learned they are, the longer the list of references at the back. Even gossips often say (or admit, if pressed) who told them what they're now passing on.

And I do it in these letters – this one's based on the letter of Jude in the Bible, verse 25, about authority. So, on whom or on what are we basing our faith? We pray, but what guarantees that our prayers are listened to, or do any good? The answer is the promises of God, our Saviour through Jesus Christ our Lord, to whom be glory, majesty, dominion, and authority, for always. Amen.

Great Saviour God, we praise you for your promise that you are saving the world through your Son Jesus, our Lord. Please include me in your plans, and set me free to do your bidding, trusting you for the outcome. Amen.

May we have full confidence in the word of God. Yours
